

Diane Bakdash, alleged accomplice in son's murder case, given reduced bail

Now that 66-year-old Diane Bakdash has appeared in court on the charge of accessory after the fact to murder, we're getting a look at the criminal complaint against her, and seeing a glimpse of her defense strategy.

Judge Daniel Mabley agreed to reduce her bail to $100,000 from the initial $1 million bond.

The woman's son, Timothy Ayman Bakdash, has already been charged with second-degree murder for deliberately driving his car into three university students in Dinkytown April 15.

One of those three, Ben Van Handel, died five days later.

Stone Creek Psychiatry Diane Bakdash

According to the complaint, Timothy Bakdash tried to sell the car

shortly after the incident, presumably to make it harder for police to find him. The man he sold the car to told police he heard Diane Bakdash tell her son over the phone that "he had to get rid of the car that night." She then signed the title, completing the transaction.

Diane Bakdash's lawyer, Ryan Garry, told the court his client is innocent, because she didn't know her son had been involved in a crime when she helped him sell the Mitsubishi Galant he used to run over his victims.

But that may prove a difficult case to sell in court; if Bakdash knew the car was badly damaged, even if she thought it was in a property-damage hit-and-run, she could still be guilty as an accomplice.

After characterizing Timothy Bakdash as a man battling chemical dependency, Garry also told the judge of the "irony" that Diane Bakdash was a respected nurse, and an occasional witness for the county attorney's office, who had worked with others struggling with chemical dependency.

Minneapolis Police are still so far refusing to release booking photos for either Timothy or Diane Bakdash, saying only that the investigation into the case is ongoing.

Here's the complaint against Diane Bakdash:

On April 21, 2011, officers spoke to B.B., who stated Timothy Ayman Bakdash, admitted that he had gotten in a "car accident." Timothy Bakdash told him he had gone to the Library Bar in Minneapolis where he had quite a few drinks. He stated he had gotten in an altercation with two males and two females. Timothy Bakdash continued to argue with one gentleman while outside of the bar, who eventually walked away. Timothy Bakdash then got into his vehicle, a Mitsubishi Galant, and traveled down the wrong way on a one-way street where the car jumped the sidewalk and struck the group of pedestrians. Timothy Bakdash admitted he intended to hit and kill three of the people there, but stated he struck a fourth person whom he did not intentionally hit. He stated he had no remorse for hitting the others.

B.B. stated Timothy Bakdash sold him the Mitsubishi Galant for $1,500. He stated he heard Timothy Bakdash speaking with his mother, DIANE PATRICIA BAKDASH, Defendant herein, over the telephone on April 15, 2011. B.B. stated he heard Defendant tell Timothy Bakdash that he had to get rid of that car that night. She also stated she would sign the title. Defendant was the actual owner of the Mitsubishi Galant. B.B. stated he later picked up the vehicle and took it to his garage stall to begin repairs. He received the vehicle's title document that contained Defendant's signature. B.B. stated the windshield was smashed and there were dents in the vehicle.

Officers learned that on April 20, 2001 B.V.H. died as a result of his injuries, multiple blunt-force trauma to his head.

On April 21, 2011, while attempting to locate Timothy Bakdash, officers went to Defendant's home. She refused to speak with them and stated she wanted an attorney. Later that day, officers were able to locate Timothy Bakdash and he was taken into custody. He has been charged with Murder in the Second Degree and two counts of Assault in the Second Degree.

On April 25, 2011, Defendant went to the Hennepin County Jail to visit Timothy Bakdash, where she was apprehended. Defendant is now currently in custody.
